Annual Report 2013 > Year of Change

2013 has been an interesting year for the English for Kids Foundation, as it has been the start of a fundamental change in the organisation. The Board has discussed policies thoroughly and has decided to focus more on support to children in the classroom. In order to offer more substantial support, we need to professionalise our organisation and allow more volunteers to travel and visit our projects. We should also try to get more teamwork in volunteers operating from Roosendaal.

To support the decision making process, we asked expert Somaye Dehban to write a report on the options available. Ambassador Hugo Tempelman from South-Africa advised on the different steps and reviewed the first draft of the report called EFKF 2.0, first published on 1 November 2013. The EFKF Board discussed the report in her December 2013 meeting and advised to focus on core activities, using 2014 to build a new group of volunteers to strengthen the organisation.

Below you will find the 4 Newsletters of 2013, stipulating activities both in projects and events, and the financial report of 2013, as it has been discussed and approved by our accountant.
